

CHEMICAL INVESTIGATION OF TERMINALIA CATAPPA

T. K. K. Diyabalanage^a, U. L. B. Jayasinghe^{b*}, P. M. Simmonds^c,
G. P. Wannigama^a, A. Wickramasinghe^a

^aDepartment of Chemistry, University of Peradeniya, Sri Lanka

^bInstitute of Fundamental Studies, Hantana Road, Kandy, Sri Lanka

^cUniversity NMR Centre, Australian National University, Canberra, ACT-0200, Australia

Received 28 th April 1997

Abstract

Chemical investigation of the dichloromethane and n-butanol soluble fraction from the methanol extracts of the bark of Terminalia catappa gave β -sitosterol, oleanolic acid, betulinic acid, β -sitosterol-D-glucoside, arjunolic acid and 28-O- β -D-glucopyranosylarjunolic acid, all six compounds being reported for the first time from the plant.